

TRIANGULAR 2003-2013

MUNRO TAYLOR

Originally from Lancashire, and a pupil at the Wigan and District Mining Technical School, Munro trained as a teacher and taught art in Manchester before moving to Wales. Both Munro and his wife Thelma became wardens of the Borth Youth Hostel Association in 1963, and continued a long association with the Youth Hostels movement.

Munro was also a keen sailor, and a leading figure in the Friends of Cardigan Bay marine conservation group. Munro and his boat Pendragon were involved in numerous research projects collecting information on Cardigan Bay's marine mammals, including dolphins and porpoises. Munro also took part in the life of the Aberystwyth sailing community, including providing support boat assistance from Pendragon to crews taking part in the annual Celtic Challenge rowing race from Aberystwyth to Arklow in Ireland (and back!). Munro was a former crew member of the Borth inshore lifeboat, and had received a Royal National Lifeboat Institution award for long service.

Munro had a particular love of boxing and fencing, and was an ex-Royal Navy fencing team coach as well as head coach at both Aberystwyth University and Aberystwyth Town Fencing clubs for many years. Munro played a key role in establishing the sport of fencing in Aberystwyth and inspired many people to take up the sport, including current head coach Jeremy Walker. Munro was a constant presence and familiar face for the many generations of students who passed through the university fencing club and have gone on to fence in other clubs throughout the UK and worldwide.

Munro sadly died whilst taking a fencing class at the start of the 2003 university term, aged 71. As a tribute to Munro the Triangular competition was established, with Town, Gown and Old Boys meeting annually to contest the specially commissioned Taylor Trophy.
